AUBURN HIGHLANDS IMPROVEMENT CLUB

The May 5th meeting of the Auburn Highlands Improvement Club was well attended and various matters tending to improve the organization and community were discussed at length.

There was an election for the office of Secretary to fill vacancy made necessary by the removal from this district of Mr. Bastian. At the close of the election it was found and declared that Mr. Peter F. McCall, 7923 Elizabeth Street, was elected by unanimous vote.

There is promised some effort will be devoted toward getting better police protection for our community and the transportation problem will be reopened as there is a likelihood of results this time.

It is understood that the dancing class which meets at Masonic Temple on Saturday, conducted by Miss Morgan, had a party on Saturday afternoon, May 6. This ends the term.

Hamilton Park Senior Dramatic Club has postponed presenting "The Dust of the Earth," as announced in our last issue, until further notice.

On Sunday afternoon, May 21, The "Children's Civic Music Chorus" will give a recital, assisted by the "Adult Chorus" of Hamilton Park.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS AND INVITATIONS produced in the most authentic styles of the day. The Commercial Press, 540 W. 63rd St. Tel. Went. 4731.

Picture Framing You Know Best

For comparison: Take, for instance, that neat, clean, tasty and modern job of framing you see; how does it compare with that cheap dirty, amateurish-looking job. You know. You know which one you prefer. You know which one you like to have. You know which one looks the best. Well, then, there is the whole story. Now you know best what kind of framing you want. How are you going to get it? Not by going to a little worn-out, one-horse establishment Not much! Here's the difference: BORG'S ART SHOP is fully equipped with new, up-to-the-minute mouldings and mat boards. Then their ideas are correct. They know which kind of framing you prefer. They do it your way. They are not satisfied until they satisfy you. Isn't that what you want? You know best.

Greeting Cards for every occasion. If its made you will find it at BORG'S.

THEY TELL US THAT---

We are pleased to note that Charlie Larson, who has been a resident of Auburn Park for the past 28 years, is opening a piano store, as factory representative, at 7757 So. Halsted St. We know that his past record for honesty and courteous treatment will gain the earneslty solicited patronage of all.

We are to be favored with a "Mother Goose" entertainment on Friday evening, May 12, by the children of Harvard School. Proceeds to be used in the purchase of a Victrola.

We will be glad to publish any items of interest, if they are sent to us signed. Items for publication must be in our office on Saturday before publication.

The remainder of the Mural Decorations have been placed in the lobby of Hamilton Park Field House, thus completing same. Judge John Barton Payne, President of the So. Park Board has presented these decorations. Judge Payne donates his salary each year for such purposes.

A Volley Ball Class is being organized in the Men's Gymnasium, Hamilton Park, for business men. The Volley Ball court is to be erected soon.

"Twelfth Night" at Parker High School, which was presented May 5th, was quite a success.

While "Twelfth Night" was being enjoyed at Parker some one was very busy outside, as an auto which was standing at West entrance disappeared. The owner was called and police got busy to find the offenders. We hope it was all a joke.

Local Department Store Celebrates Sixth Anniversary.

Reiss and Meyers Department Store is celebrating the Sixth Anniversary of the founding of their store this week.

Six years ago, when Auburn Park was mostly prairie, Mr. Reiss, the senior member of the firm bearing his name, started in business at the present address, and, through his persistent efforts and fair and honest business methods, along with supplying his patrons with the best high grade merchandise obtainable, has built up a business second to none on the South Side and which we believe is a great credit to the community of Auburn Park and therefore is deserving of your patronage.

AUBURN PARK COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Auburn Commercial Club held a meeting on last Thursday afternoon at Cosmopolitan Hall. A discussion of the possibilities of an Elevated Road extension to Auburn Park resulted in the appointing of a committee to see what can be done along these lines.

A general talk on conditions in Auburn Park and the future policy of the Commercial Club was held and it was proposed to hold the next meeting in conjunction with a luncheon at one of the local restaurants, announcement of which will be made later.

There are many ways in which the Commercial Club can be of benefit to every individual in the community, but the only way to derive these benefits is to attend these meetings. It is hoped that the attendance will show decided increase in the future.

A. L. Bloomquist has succeeded Geo. D. Breuning in jewelry business at 7824 So. Halsted. He was formerly in partnership with P. Kerns, 1465 E. 55th. He is well recommended as being a very reliable and efficient man for his trade and is deserving a share of your business.

EVERY MORNING

Ask yourself this question: "What do I need today, that cannot be bought in Auburn?"

On Tuesday evening, May 9, we were favored with a Piano Recital at Hamilton Park Club Room, given by pupils of Laura M. Timmons, assisted by Berenice M. Sweeney, Violin, and pupils of Helen L. Emmart, Expression.

Auburn, the wise buyer's trading place.

Mr. H. Daniels of 71st and Morgan has moved to 7327 Harvard Ave. We hope he feels at home at his new address.

Mention The Auburn Community Booster to the people you trade with. It will encourage them to advertise.

"The Unity Choral Society" held its regular business meeting on Tuesday evening, May 2, at the Church on 74th and Princeton Avenue. Election of officers took place and some things of importance considered.

THE CROCKFORD FUND

Chicago, Illinois,
May 1st, 1916.

Editor "BOOSTER".

The Committee of Ladies, in charge of the campaign to raise money for the Crockford Fund, have asked me to write you.

These ladies desire to express their hearty and sincere thanks to ALL who have already responded liberally to their appeal. They also ask that EVERYONE do what he or she can afford. If you have contributed less than you really, down in your heart, feel you can afford, a further chance is still open.

Let each one of us, in this prosperous community, reflect a moment. How about it, if OUR OWN father or grandfather, after a long, active and praiseworthy life, found himself in sore straits?

At least $500.00 must be raised. This means that everybody should do something—from 5c for each of the school children, who love the dear, old gentleman to the business men who should be glad to respond with their dollar and five dollar pieces, to help one who was able to hold his head up among the best business people, for so many years, in this community.

The Committee of Ladies also wish to especially thank Mr. Godshaw, of the "Cosmopolitan," for his most unusual generosity, in giving the free use of his hall last Thursday and for the "Lion's share" of the door receipts for the coming big Vaudeville entertainment this coming Saturday. The writer has personal knowledge of many splendid things done for this community by this big-hearted gentleman. And he certainly deserves special mention at this time.

ADVERTISING THE GREAT BUSINESS BUILDER

Visitors from abroad, while traveling over this country, are surprised at the bigness and completeness of our stores, and the comprehensive scale on which American merchants do things.

The American shopkeeper was the first to take newspaper advertising seriously and to apply it on a liberal scale in his business.

John Wanamaker, Marshall Field and a few others were the pioneers in the serious use of this great new force, which was soon to revolutionize the business world.

In the hands of these men newspaper advertising MADE GOOD, and in the different cities other merchants began to buy newspaper space in a big way, and to use it regularly.

Soon the results of this new policy became apparent to all men—the advertising stores commenced to grow in size and efficiency, and came to be the leaders in their respective communities—with the result that it was not long before a new order of things was started in the retail stores of this country, which in time has placed the American store, as an institution, at the top and in a class apart.

The merchants themselves are not slow to recognize the great part which newspaper advertising has played in the building up of legitimate business. To the potency of printer's ink do they ascribe the wonderful and continued expansion of the big stores of this land, and are using more space, and using it more efficiently, than ever before.

Consult your Community Booster and, with pencil and pad, sit down and figure out how much you could save if you were to buy what you need, or would like to have, in accordance with the advertisements contained in this issue of the Booster.

Do this a few times, and you will be surprised at the savings opportunities which open up thru reading the advertising.

A camp fire is being organized at Hamilton Park. The next meeting to be held on Thursday, May 11, at 4:00 P. M. Membership open to girls between 12 and 14 years. Any wishing to join be present on this date.

The next meeting of The Hamilton Park Neighborhood Council will be held in the Field House, on Tuesday, May 9th, 8:00 P. M. All adults of the neighborhood are welcome to attend.

The entertainment of the evening will consist of an explanation of the meaning of the new mural paintings just placed in the lobby of the Field House, by Mr. Norton, the artist who produced them. He will conduct all present about the lobby and interpret the paintings. NO CHILDREN WILL BE PRESENT. This meeting is exclusively for adults, those interested in the coordination and upbuilding of our neighborhood life. It is expected to have members from every organization and institution in our vicinity present, and to take part in the proceedings.

The important part of the meeting will comprise a symposium on "WHAT SHOULD THE COUNCIL DO NEXT?"

THE WHITE HOUSE SITE.

What David Burns Had to Say to George Washington About It.

When the land for the present capital was being secured the commissioners appointed by President Washington found it hard to persuade some of the local landholders to part with their fields. In "Walks About Washington" an old story good enough to be true is told about one David Burns, a canny Scot, who held out so long that President Washington personally undertook his conversion After pointing out to the farmer what advantages he would reap from having the government for a neighbor the great man concluded:

"But for this opportunity, Mr. Burns, you might have died a poor tobacco planter"

"Aye, mon," snapped Burns, "and had ye no married the Widder Custis, wi' all her nagurs, ye'd ha' been a land surveyor the noo and a mighty poor ane at that."

However, when he learned that unless he accepted the liberal terms offered him his land would be condemned and seized at an appraisal probably much lower Burns met the president in quite another mood and to the final question, "Well, sir, what have you concluded to do?" astonished every one by his prompt response:

"Whate'er your excellency wad hae me."

On one of his fields now stands the White House, and an adjacent lot became Lafayette square.

The Early Drum.

Drums are probably an eastern idea introduced by the crusaders into Europe. They are frequently mentioned in accounts of the first crusade. When Edward III. of England and his queen made triumphal entry into Calais in 1347 "tambours" were among the instruments which were played in their honor. Another of these was called a "nacaire," or kettledrum, taken, together with its name, from the Arabs. The poet Chaucer also mentioned this instrument in his description of the tournament in "The Knight's Tale." The king generally kept a troop of these bandsmen or minstrels in his employ; and we read that Edward II. on one occasion gave a sum of 60 shillings to Roger, the trumpeter; Janino, the nakerer, and others for their performances.

Little Things as an Index.

"Here," said an observer, "was a machine upon which appeared the name plate of the manufacturer, a small and not essential feature. But this plate had been set on true, and then the screws by which it was held in place had all been turned up until the slots in their heads all showed in precisely the same position, alike, uniform.

"Whoever put this plate on made a nice, finished job of it, and I should be inclined to think that a shop that had such pride in even the minor details of its work would do good work throughout."—Pittsburgh Press.

Discourtesy.

Discourtesy does not spring merely from one bad quality, but from several —from foolish vanity, from ignorance of what is due to others, from indolence, from stupidity, from distraction of thought, from contempt of others, from jealousy.—La Bruyere.

Kiss Producers.

"I wish mistletoe were in season all the time," said he.

"Why?"

"It means kisses."

"Orange blossoms are never out of season," hinted the girl.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Just Men.

If any one says that he has seen a just man in want of bread I answer that it was in some place where there was no other just man.—St. Clement.

NO ALTERATIONS

Even So.

The partners who had never been well mated were having their dissolution of partnership quarrel.

"You've been playing the baby act," said one, "ever since we went into business together!"

"You bet I have," said the other promptly. "I've been putting up my head against your cheek."—Strickland Gillilan in Judge.

Auburn, the wise buyer's trading place.

Not His Own Choice.

"I believe you are the same man who was here about a year ago," said the housewife.

"Maybe so, mum," replied the tramp. "I was in these parts."

"And you haven't found any work to do yet?"

"Only what was wished on me, mum, by one or two hard hearted judges."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Do you want to sell something? Try a classified ad in the Auburn Community Booster, 10c a line.

Polite, but Firm.

Mrs. N. was giving instructions to her new servant: "Before removing the soup plates, Mary, always ask each person if he or she would like any more."

"Very good, madame."

Next day Mary, respectfully bowing to one of the guests, inquired:

"Would the gentleman like some more soup?"

"Yes, please."

"There ain't any left."—Chicago Journal.

That's Why.

"How is it you never see Jimson carrying bundles home like the rest of the commuters?"

"That's easy. His wife won't trust him with the money to do the family shopping. All he gets is his commutation ticket and 15 cents a day for lunch money."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Partial Confirmation.

"Have you read of this theory about colors and the sensations?"

"No. What is it?"

"Joy is crimson, Gloom is blue. Quarrels are black. Think there's anything in it?"

"Dunno. I never saw any black quarrels, but I have seen lavender spats."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

FIGHT YOUR FAULTS.

It is not so much the being exempt from faults as the having overcome them that is an advantage to us, it being with the follies of the mind, as with the weeds of a field, which, if destroyed and consumed upon the place where they grow, enrich and improve it more than if none had ever sprung there.

A Lightning Change Artist.

The rapidity with which chameleons change their color is marvelous. You gather one from an outdoor shrub and it immediately becomes dark, almost black, hissing and with its mouth wide open, threatening to bite. Meanwhile it is never still, but continues to crawl upward whenever possible—up you, up your sleeve, always upward. By degrees the angry black changes into whatever color is nearest. If one's dress is of a brownish color so is the chameleon's.

Cruel Science.

The unfortunate farm laborer was a pessimist, with reason. He had been thrown out of several jobs by the introduction of farm machinery, consequently he distrusted everything that smacked of conservation of energy. Now he stood by the kitchen table reading the labels on parcels his wife had brought home from town.

"Self raising flour," he said, "Ah, they'll be inventing self raising wheat next to throw us poor devils out of another job!"—New York Times.

Turks and the Grave.

In Constantinople, as in other Turkish cities, bodies are placed in the ground as soon as the last spark of life has fled The Mussulman believes that as long as the body is unburied the spirit is in torment and that it is a crime akin to murder to molest a grave. Accordingly the cemeteries around many oriental cities far exceed in extent the abodes of the living.

Stick Insects of Borneo.

The longest known insect is undoubtedly the stick insect of Borneo. Specimens thirteen inches in length have been captured. It is an interesting example of mimetic coloring, resembling in a remarkable manner a piece of rough stick. On the bough of a tree it is extremely difficult to distinguish between the insect and the bark.

Assyrian Seals.

The ancient Assyrians nearly 6,000 years ago put in moist clay their seals, engraved in intaglio upon precious stones, on chests and doors, in order to prevent their being opened. There were no locks or keys in those days. If they wished to send a private letter they would often seal it with a hippogriff, which fabulous winged horse was regarded as the emblem of secrecy. Centuries later the Greeks and Romans adopted similar devices for the same purpose.

THEDA BARA in "THE SERPENT" at the COSMOPOLITAN THEATRE THURSDAY, MAY 11TH

Theda Bara is at her best as Vania Lazar, a beautiful Russian peasant girl. Betrayed and debauched by the Grand Duke Valonoff, she leaves the country and with naught but hate in her heart for all men deliberately sets forth on a career of devastation. High or low degree, it matters naught, her prey is man, and in the city in which she has taken up her abode, she leaves a trail marked by ruined lives. The war has broken out, wounded soldiers are arriving from the front, and "The Serpent" watches in glee as the broken men file past her window. A Russian officer is carried past. His face wakens memories. She makes inquiry and discovers that the wounded officer is Prince Valonoff, son of the Grand Duke. She helps nurse him back to health and he, too, falls victim to her charms. Shortly after their marriage the Grand Duke sends word that he is coming to visit his beloved and only son. The Prince is called away before his father's arrival. Vania greets the Grand Duke, who does not recognize her. He makes love to her after she has lured him on. The Prince returns, and finding his wife clasped in the arms of his own father ——? The last drop of venom from "The Serpent's" fangs has found its mark.

No Joke.

"My son, beware of woman's guile,"
Advised old Mr. Kemper.
For often a real sunny smile
Conceals a red hot temper.

Paw Knows Everything.

Willie—Paw, what is petticoat government?

Paw—That's what every Republican and every Democrat votes for the day he marries, my son.

Maw—Willie, you go get some soap and wash out your mouth.

When A Nurse is Needed

One can be secured on short notice by Telephoning Normal 3298. The Normal Nurses' Registry sent nurses on a very large number of cases during 1915 and in practically every instance complete satisfaction was expressed by those into whose homes the nurses were sent. On our register are some of the most proficient graduate nurses in the city, under-graduates who have nearly completed their training, and practical nurses who go into a home where there is sickness and give the benefit of their years of experience in practical nursing. If you need a nurse telephone us. State the amount you can afford to pay and a nurse will be sent to you within a few hours. : : : :

"Being Particular is the secret of our success"

Paw Knew Everything.

Willie—Paw, why is the man who took our order called a waiter?

Paw—Because he is going to keep us waiting so long, my son.

Advice.

Be very careful what you do,
Don't try to live too high;
If you would rise in this world you
Should never be too fly.

Huh!

"There are just as big fish in the sea as ever were caught," observed the optimist.

"Maybe there are," replied the pessimist. "But there are none as big as the ones that got away."

Correct.

The gabby man sure is a bore,
His mouth should have a clutch,
For he could say a whole lot more
And not talk half as much.

The Wise Fool.

"The race problem is a serious one," remarked the sage.

"It certainly is when you are down to your last $2 and are wondering which nag you will play," replied the fool.

Sure!

Cheer up! Don't join the hopeless flock
Of those who grump and groan,
For you can turn a stumbling block
Into a stepping stone

True Blue.

The expression "true blue," which we hear so often, has not even an English parentage, but is said to have been a Spanish saying which meant that the blood that filled the veins of the aristocracy of Spain was blue in color, while that of the inferior mortals was more or less black, and the proverb that "true blue will never stain" instead of meaning, as it is generally supposed, that "a noble heart will never disgrace itself," actually refers to the "blue aprons" worn by butchers on account of their not showing blood stains—a far jump this from the blue blood of the haughty Spanish aristocrat to the humble apron of a butcher's boy.—London Express.

Sand Tree of Prussia.

We are accustomed to regard sand as utterly barren, but the plants native to the coast sands of Prussia have been enumerated by naturalists whose estimates vary from 171 to 234 varieties. Of these one of the most available is the Arundo arenaria (marram), which thrives only in sand and in the salt air of the beach. This in time serves to prepare the soil for larger plants.

Flirting With Fame.

"Nell is just crazy over Ibsen."

"So he's her latest, is he? Where'd she meet him?"—Boston Transcript.

Luke McLuke Says:

When a boy is reserved and doesn't talk much, his mother is real proud of him because he takes after her.

What has become of the old fashioned man who used to put in more time supporting his political party than he did in supporting his family?

You know how you dislike to accept charity. Well, don't you worry over it. You do not dislike to accept any more than the other fellow dislikes to dispense it.

In olden times it was considered pretty tough to be put on the rack and have one of your legs pulled off and then have some one beat you over the head with it. But, after all, them was the happy days! A man didn't have to live next door to a nuisance who had a rusty phonograph that played "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier" all day and most of the night.

Before he gets her he tells her that he would gladly die for her. After he gets her he cusses a blue streak every time he makes a payment on his life insurance policy.

You may have wondered why our ancestors had big stone slabs placed

Wuff!

We are ashamed to spring this tale,
And yet we hate to duck it;
A fellow gets a little pale
Before he kicks the bucket.
—Luke McLuke in Cincinnati Enquirer.

Such thought seems almost like a sin,
And yet it seems quite funny
That when a rich man "cashes in"
His children get the money.
—Arkansas Democrat.
